OUTDOOR ACCESSORY LINE FROM DON'T EAT THE EAGLE PREMIERES AT CHICAGO INTERNATIONAL CASUAL FURNITURE & ACCESSORIES MARKET

CHICAGO -- Don't Eat the Eagle, a business devoted to creating exquisite fabric elements for the home, is pleased to announce the launch of an outdoor fabric accessories line, under the brand name "Gilded Nest." Available only through retailers, accessory items include throw pillows, reversible chair cushions, table linens and patio umbrellas.

"The outdoor market is an exciting growth opportunity for us. More and more people are enjoying the comforts of home in the outdoors. We look forward to providing new options for people looking for something special to enhance their outdoor living space," said owner Kimberly Badenhop.

The line features ten color stories, all including a variety of items, such as square, rectangular and bolster pillows, tablecloths, runners and placemats. Ranging from soft neutrals to vibrant seaside shades, the Gilded Nest premiere color-ways are:

- Cactus Flower
- Docksider
- Garden Party
- Gatsby
- Lagoon
- Saddle Up
- Sandscape
- Set Sail
- Twilight Sky
- Mississippi Mud

Bolster pillows also are available in:

- Blush
- Leaf
- Onyx
- Sapphire
- Taupe

Gilded Nest also offers umbrellas in an array of fabrics to compliment the nine color stories. Poles and umbrella "skins" are sold separately for maximum design flexibility.

The Gilded Nest line premieres at the Chicago International Casual Furniture and Accessories Market. The line also is available for review at www.GildedNest.com.

"We look forward to offering this site as a reference to those in the industry, and we will use it as a tool to drive business to retailer sites. It is not our goal to direct sell via the web, or compete with our retail buyers," said Badenhop.
